STRIKE CONDITIONS IN ENGLAND GROWING WORSE

Cotton Mills Close Down Causing Enforced Idleness of Thousands. Frequent Outbreaks.

[By Associated Press.]

Manchester, England, July 6.—The enforced idleness of thousands of cotton mill operatives complicated the strike of the carters today. Many of the cotton mills were unable to obtain coal and have shut down indefinitely. Several hundred coal miners also are on strike.

Crowds of idle men on the streets are causing frequent outbreaks of stone throwing. The strikers' pickets are co-operating with the police to maintain order.

Little Pitchers.

In a certain small town there are two young women whose favorite occupation has been to discuss the affairs of their neighbors. Having met for that purpose one afternoon, they found themselves locked in the indulgence of their pastime by the presence of the small daughter of the house. A slight indisposition of some sort prevented sending the child out of doors, so they were forced to put up with her presence, doing their best, however, to nullify it.

Something eatable was produced and an absorbing new game invented which she could play quite by herself. So they breathed freely and began. The talk at length reached a point involving the latest scandal of the neighborhood and the retelling of some inside information which must not become public property. A hurried look at the child on the floor found her apparently so occupied with her game that it seemed quite safe to go on if one observed a decent discretion. Voices were accordingly lowered and direct allusion veiled, but when the matter had been thrashed out to their satisfaction the child raised her eyes and remarked with deliberation and emphasis:

"I hear, I know, I understand, and I'll blab!"—New York Times.

Books and Their Care.

Books on shelves may be seriously injured if packed too tightly. When quickly pulled out for use the top of the book is likely to come off. Moreover, the constant pressure, if too great, will loosen the whole back in time and the friction in putting upon and taking from the shelf mars the covers. On the other hand, a reasonable amount of lateral pressure is necessary. If placed on the shelves too loosely the leaves tend to open and admit dust, dampness and consequent mildew. In the case of heavy volumes the weight of the leaves will be found resting on the shelves if the books are placed too loosely. This is likely to make the backs concave. Badly painted shelves are another source of injury to books. Care should be taken when painting or varnishing is used

An Anecdote of Pope.

There is an old anecdote of Alexander Pope concerning one of the old watermen who were employed for many years in rowing Pope on the Thames. Pope was in the habit of having his sedan chair lifted into the punt. If the weather was fine he let down the glasses; if cold he pulled them up. He would sometimes say to the waterman:

"John, I am going to repeat some verses. Take care to remember them the next time I go out."

When that time came Pope would say:

"John, where are the verses I told you of?"

"I have forgotten them, sir."

"John, you are a blockhead. I must write them down for you."

John said that no one thought of saying when speaking of him, "Mr. Pope," but that he was always called "Mr. Alexander."

The Original Encyclopedia.

The first real encyclopedia was Pliny's "Natural History." This work was an extensive one, numbering some thirty-seven volumes and dealing with all the then known facts of the world. Pliny, who died A. D. 79, collected the data for his work in his leisure intervals while engaged in public affairs. The "Natural History" was for its time an amazing production, treated of some 20,000 facts and was of very high authority throughout the entire middle ages. Forty-three editions of the work were printed before the year 1530, and no scholar's library was considered complete without it.—New York American.

Yosemite Versus Grand Canyon.

Yosemite for a home or a camp, the Grand Canyon for a spectacle. I saw a robin in Yosemite valley. Think how forlorn and out of place a robin would seem in the Grand Canyon! What would he do there? There is no turf for him to inspect, and there are no trees for him to perch on. I would as soon expect to find him amid the pyramids of Egypt or amid the ruins of Karnak. The bluebird was there also, and the water ouzel haunted the lucid waters. The reader may create for himself a good image of Yosemite by thinking of a section of seven or eight miles of the Hudson river midway of its course as emptied of its waters and deepened 3,000 feet or more, having the sides nearly vertical, with snow white waterfalls fluttering against them here and there, the famous spires and domes planted along the rim, and the landscape of groves and glades, with its still, clear, winding river, occupying the bottom.—John Burroughs in Century.

His Apology.

A recent refusal by a member of the English parliament to withdraw "one comma" of what he had said about a member of the government recalls the fact that Richard Brinsley Sheridan once declined to punctuate an apology. In the house of commons one day Sheridan gave an opponent the lie direct. Called upon to apologize, the offender replied:

"Mr. Speaker, I said the honorable member was a liar it is true and I am sorry for it."

The insulted party was not satisfied and said so.

"Sir," retorted Sheridan, "the honorable member can interpret the terms of my statement according to his ability, and he can put punctuation marks where it pleases him."

Notice Feeders

Crowley, La., Nov. 2nd, 1907.
P. L. Lawrence, President,

Crowley, La.

Dear Sir:—Having used "NUTRILINE FEED" exclusively for three years I am warranted in recommending it as the best and most economical feed I have ever used. Being STEAM COOKED and finely ground, it is superior to any feed, not excepting corn and oats, I have ever fed.

I have saved several hundred dollars by using Nutriline and therefore shall continue to use it. Yours truly,

ENVOIOUS WOMEN.

You Can Have Just as Lovely a Head of Hair as Any Woman.

Don't feel blue because your hair is lifeless and faded, get a bottle of Parisian Sage and see how quickly it will become brilliant and fascinating. Use it daily for a few days and note how quickly scalp itch ceases and dandruff vanishes.

It stops falling hair, too, and makes thin, scanty hair grow thick and profusely.

It's the real invigorating, delightful hair dressing for men, women and children, and best of all, if it doesn't do just as advertised get your money back. It kills the dandruff germs, and for 50c you can get a large bottle at E. J. Jenkins and druggists everywhere. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every bottle.
